

Our Commitment to You

- › We strive to keep our products in the informed hands of health care professionals for your benefit.
- › The sale of our supplements through nonprofessionals and other third-party channels dilutes our philosophy and compromises the quality of our products.

Our Philosophy

- › Only our authorized health care professionals can assure you that you're receiving our actual products. Products with our name purchased through third-party websites can't be guaranteed.
- › Open or expired products, broken bottles, receiving the wrong product or no product at all, and product instructions that are not recommended or contradictory to our product guidance are just some of the issues we've heard about when consumers purchase from these online retailers.
- › Don't be fooled. There are no authorized sellers of Standard Process® supplements on Amazon® or any third-party website.

A Discount Website Can't Give You Expertise

Buying your Standard Process supplements from online sources that are not approved distributors deprives you of all the valuable insight your health care professional can give.

With education, experience, and a commitment to supporting your health, your health care professional is your best source for information and products.

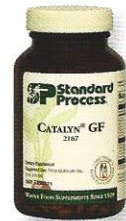

Why buy nutritional supplements from your health care professional?

You get recommendations from an expert who will:

- › Make sure you're getting the right supplements
- › Help you avoid the confusion of trying to choose from all the alternatives out there
- › Explain situations in which a supplement should not be used
- › Help you avoid the dangers of guessing or self-diagnosis

Buy your supplements from your health care professional. Only your health care professional:

- › Knows your personal nutritional needs for the best supplement recommendations
- › Possesses the experience and ability to explain the complexity of the whole food ingredients in our supplements and give you the support you need
- › Has the qualifications to sell Standard Process products

Whole Food Supplements Since 1929
standardprocess.com

©2014 Standard Process Inc. All rights reserved. L5310 05/14